

Washington, D.C.—U.S. Congressman Mike Pence announced that Rev. Paul D. Mooney, senior pastor of Calvary Tabernacle Church in Indianapolis and president of Indiana Bible College and Calvary Christian Schools, will be his guest of honor at the 2012 National Prayer Breakfast in Washington, D.C., on Thursday, Feb. 2, 2012.

"I am honored that Rev. Mooney will join me at the National Prayer Breakfast," said Pence. "It is a privilege to have such an esteemed Hoosier with me at this wonderful event that nationally recognizes the power and importance of prayer."

Background on Rev. Paul D. Mooney

Prior to beginning his service as pastor of Calvary Tabernacle in Indianapolis in 1988, Rev. Mooney was a pastor at Muskegon Apostolic Tabernacle and Shelby United Pentecostal Church in Michigan. He also served on the District Board of the United Pentecostal Church, and helped found the Apostolic Institute of Development. He continues to speak around the world at conferences, seminars, and camp meetings, and is currently the Assistant General Superintendent, Eastern Zone of the United Pentecostal Church International, in addition to his role as pastor of Calvary Tabernacle.

###